The Strike Today
Great Britain's general strike today assumed a dangerous international aspect.
Danish unions today decided to strike in sympathy with the British workers.
At Conception Bay, N. F., unemployed workers, when refused government relief last night, wrecked the commissioner's office and raided two stores. Police arriving from St. John's today found the situation continuing threatening.
In Australia 50,000 coal miners struck in sympathy with the British miners.
Mexican workers have cabled their British comrades that they will not load or unload ships arriving from or sailing for British ports.
French communists are endeavoring to rouse workers to strike in sympathy with the British but without much chance of success.

By CLIFFORD L. DAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, May 7.—Britain entered upon the fourth day of the general strike today after a night of scattered riots and disorders which many persons feared were but the portent of grave outbreaks to come unless the industrial dispute was speedily ended.
Sporadic rioting was resumed today.

Gangs of London strikers at midday pursued and slugged half a dozen news vendors, who were selling provincial papers in Fleet Street, the publishing center of the British empire. Police dispersed the strikers.
Religious Britain, which is rent by many schisms, was partly consolidated by the general strike. The Archbishops of Canterbury and York, the former being head of the Church of England, announced today that they were co-operating with the non-conformist leaders in an effort to effect a Christian solution of the dispute.

Queen Street, Cardiff, was thronged with menacing crowds today, but the police dispersed them without casualties.

Several miners were arrested in Glasgow today as they wandered through the streets seeking student volunteers, who are assisting government efforts to break the strike. It was officially announced in London that there had been no serious trouble in the city nor in the home counties.

Railroads announced service somewhat more adequate than that of yesterday. Service on the North-eastern railroad today was estimated by an official to be 32 per cent.

More poloists have joined London's mounted police.
Mrs. Baldwin, wife of the premier today assumed charge of the volunteer organization to provide transportation to and from work for business women.

The government at 2 P. M. admitted the seriousness of the violence menace which threatens the nation.
"Feeling is very strained, but there is small outward change in the situation," the official government communique announced today.
"Constables had to be called out last night to augment the regular police, but the police are maintaining complete control of the situation."

Disorders reported today were ominous.
The stationmaster and a police sergeant at Middlesbrough were seriously injured when strikers attempted to hold up a train there.

At the important north of England seaport, Hull, thousands of rioters, working on what apparently was a prearranged plan, swept to the center of the city last night, interrupting the operation of busses. Mounted police patrolled the city.

Early today a United Press correspondent in Edinburgh telephoned that a total of 19 arrests had been made following minor disturbances. London grocers warned their customers today that food rationing must begin next week unless the situation

SENATE APPROVES PLANS TO STIFFEN PROHIBITION LAWS

Washington, May 7.—(UP)—The senate judiciary sub-committee decided today to approve the measures recommended by Gen. Lincoln Andrews, dry czar, to strengthen the prohibition laws.
Pending wet measures received little consideration and probably will be dropped formally next Tuesday when the committee will hold a final meeting.
The prohibition enforcement measures, it was said, would be combined into two bills and it was indicated that the modification proposals would be received adversely.

Improved. The shortage is due in part to a veritable bargain day rush of anxious housewives to obtain food supplies for hoarding.

The first result of a government decision to repress rioting with firmer action came last night when a police cordon half a mile long was formed in New Kent Road, London, following the burning of a private automobile by a disorderly crowd.

In South London all traffic within certain sections has ceased, even pedestrians being compelled to detour.

Mounted police armed with clubs, for the first time during the strike, patrolled the entire section.

From Leeds, Clowne, in Derbyshire; Glasgow and Musselburgh reports of minor rioting were telegraphed to London.

Four men were arrested in Sheffield for carrying a Lewis machine gun.

Laborites were advised today that Austrian workers had deposited a large sum in Anglo-Austrian bank in Vienna to the credit of the Trades Union Council. It would be immediately available through the Bank of England.

DANISH LABOR UNIONS IN SYMPATHETIC STRIKE

By OLE CAVLING
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Copenhagen, May 7.—Danish labor unions today decided to strike in sympathy with the British workers.
The unions announced that they were preparing to send strike notices to the employers.
This was the first important instance of Britain's labor dispute extending to the continent.

Denmark supplies Britain with a major portion of the dairy produce, butter, eggs and the like, which is imported. The effect of the Danish unions' act will be felt immediately at the British breakfast table.

MEXICAN ELECTRICAL WORKERS TO STRIKE

Mexico City, May 7.—The executive committee of the National Federation of Electrical Workers has decreed a nation wide sympathy strike as a protest against the "intransigent attitude of the British government against organized labor of that nation." The strike will begin Monday unless Britain agrees to its workers' terms.

It is understood that only electricians engaged in work connected with private homes will be involved.

Meanwhile, replying to the request of Amsterdam workers for solidarity with the British strike the C. R. O. M., Mexico's labor organization, has cabled that neither ships flying the British flag nor ships destined for British ports will be loaded or fueled by Mexican labor.

Two thousand dollars have been sent to the British strikers and more will follow, the cable says.

BRITISH CABINET TAKES UP STRIKE

London, May 7.—The British cabinet met today shortly after noon to consider the strike situation. The cabinet meeting was in the premier's room in the house of commons.

RIOTERS BREAKING WINDOWS AT EDINBURGH

Edinburgh, May 7.—Windows were broken and many passengers were injured in last night's rioting here. Police afoot and mounted quelled the disturbance with their batons.
Many strikers repudiated the outbreak, asserting that hoodlums were responsible.

Hull, May 7.—Six men and one woman were removed to hospitals this afternoon following disturbances (Continued on Page 3)

2 COUNTY GRAND JURIES NOW INVESTIGATING CONDITIONS
AT PENITENTIARY

By MAX BUCKINGHAM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, May 7.—With three of the seven convicts who escaped from the Illinois penitentiary at Joliet on Wednesday still at large today, two county grand juries plunged into an investigation of conditions at the penitentiary, which made possible the dash to freedom and the murder of Warden Peter Klein.

The grand jury of Will county at Joliet, which happened to be touring through the penitentiary when the convicts conducted their spectacular escape, probed prison rules of conduct in an effort to explain why it was possible for the seven men to gain access to the warden's office at one time.

WWill county
The Cook county grand jury here in Chicago, meanwhile, was asked to investigate charges of political corruption and an alleged "traffic in prison pardons and paroles."

Hjalma, Rhen, state's attorney of Will county, said he would ask the grand jury to delve into the entire management of the prison and would call witnesses prepared to tell of conditions that permitted former companions in crime to work side by side in the prison factory. It is usually the custom to separate friends when they enter the penitentiary.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, of Chicago, a political opponent of Governor Len Small, announced he would send evidence before the Cook county grand jury which would show "a startling traffic in pardons and paroles involving persons in high office."

Governor Small has for a number of years been the object of attack because of the pardon and parole system in Illinois.

Under the state law, the governor appoints his own pardon board. Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, also a political opponent of Governor Small, is aiding Crowe in the Chicago grand jury investigation.

Meanwhile the search continued throughout northern Illinois for the three fugitives still uncaptured. Four of the five convicts who staged a gun battle with a posse at Leonore, early Thursday, have now been captured. The fifth, Charles Duschowski, alleged leader of the dash for freedom, has evaded posses and, according to the four, who have been captured, has boasted he would shoot to death any officer who tried to take him. Charles Schrader and James Price, who parted ways from the other five just before the battle at Leonore started, are believed to have reached Chicago and are in hiding in the underworld haunts.

I. C. C. PREPARES FOR ARGUMENTS IN GRAIN RATES

Washington, May 7.—(UP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today announced that argument in the northwestern grain rate cases will be held here on June 3 and 4.

Grain rates between Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin points now pending before the commission will be disposed of at this time.

Relief from the long and short haul provision of the transportation act was granted on grain movements from Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Omaha, Neb., to St. Louis, provided the rates do not conflict with other schedules.

MAKE ROPE OF BLANKETS AND 4 MEN ESCAPE

Baltimore, Md., May 7.—(UP)—Making a rope of blankets, four prisoners at the Maryland penitentiary escaped early today.

Two of the men have already been caught and a city wide search is on for the others. All were serving terms of 10 years or less.

RAIL FREIGHT INCREASE IF TRUCKS COMPETE

St. Paul, May 7.—(UP)—Railroad freight rates on agricultural products will necessarily be increased if truck service enters the field of the carriers, Alex James, counsel for the Great Northern, declared at the hearing yesterday before the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission.

Joseph Edell, traffic manager of the Murphy Transfer & Storage company, denied James' statement, but added that, with the increased freight rate, recently installed by the federal order, truck service is cheaper and service more prompt.

The hearings, which started more than a week ago on application of 37 trucking companies, were to be concluded today.

DIRIGIBLE NORGE HAS ARRIVED AT KING'S BAY

WAS REFUELED AT VADSOE IN NORTHEASTERN

AIRSHIP HAD FAIR WINDS OVER
THE ARCTIC
OCEAN

Oslo, Norway, May 7.—(UP)—The Dirigible Norge, in which the Amundsen-Elsworth-Noble polar expedition hopes to fly over the top of the world, arrived at King's Bay, Spitzbergen, at 6:30 a. m. today according to word received here.

The Norge had flown from Vadsoe in northeastern Norway, where it had stopped for fuel after starting north from Leningrad on the next to the last leg of the polar journey. The dirigible left Vadsoe yesterday at 2 p. m.

The trip from Vadsoe to King's Bay was made without incident. Flowing steadily northward, the dirigible had fair winds over the Arctic ocean.

Final preparations for the plunge into the unknown regions of the Arctic will be carried out immediately and an early start on the final daring trip, which may carry the ship across the pole to Point Arrow, Alaska, will soon begin.

DRY AGENT FACES MURDER CHARGE MADE

DEFENSE OF I. L. McCOUN PRE-SENTED TO JURY AT ABERDEEN, S. D.

JUDGE ELLIOTT DENIES DEFENSE
MOTION FOR DIRECTED VER-DICT OF NOT GUILTY

Aberdeen, S. D., May 7.—(UP)—The defense of I. L. McCoun, federal prohibition agent, who is charged with the murder of Francis Fountain, 22, of Jefferson, S. D., in May, 1925, was before a jury here today.

With closing arguments scheduled for today the case probably will reach the jury in the court of Judge Elliott late today.

Judge Elliott denied a defense motion for a directed verdict of not guilty.

McCoun took the stand in his own behalf late Thursday and testified that he killed Fountain after the latter had ambushed and beat him with a club during a liquor investigation on the Fountain farm.

The prohibition agent said he had gone in company with three other officers to the territory surrounding Elk Point in search of liquor and stills and was walking back along a small river, when he heard a rustling behind him. As he turned, he said, he was beaten to his knees with a club.

In this position, McCoun said, he drew his revolver and fired twice. The first shot missed, but the second struck Fountain who fell to the ground fatally wounded. Then McCoun said, he staggered to a nearby field for help.

LAST OF QUARTET OF ALLEGED BANK BANDITS TO TRIAL

CLARENCE EATON, DES MOINES,
IOWA, TO FACE ANOKA
JUDGE

CHARGED WITH COMPLICITY IN ROBBERY OF ANOKA NA-TIONAL BANK

Anoka, Minn., May 7.—(UP)—Clarence Eaton of Des Moines, Ia., the last of the quartet accused of robbing the Anoka National bank of $11,000, will go on trial in district court Monday.

The other three were found guilty of complicity in the robbery and sentenced to life imprisonment by a jury of six men and six women late Wednesday. The jury deliberated 45 minutes before arriving at a verdict.

John Anderson, Tom Colcord and Charles Salmey were the three found guilty. Eaton is alleged to have been the leader of the gang. He was given a separate trial on motion of his counsel.

The convictions were obtained through the testimony of bank employees, who pointed out the three men as members of the gang that raided the bank, locked customers and clerks in the vaults and looted the cash drawers.

The three now on trial were arrested at Shreveport, La. They were charged with speeding, but a search of their possessions established a connection with the Anoka robbery. Colcord also was wanted as a result of his escape from the Minnehaha county jail at Sioux Falls, S. D., on November 22, while he was held awaiting extradition to Nebraska on a charge of violating his parole.

LUTHERANS ARE URGED TO GREATER COOPERATIVE WORK

Minneapolis, May 7.—(UP)—Lutherans in American were urged toward greater co-operation in and co-ordination of their work at the fifth annual convention of the Lutheran Inner Mission society here yesterday, by Rev. Ambrose Hering, of Minneapolis.

Rev. Hering pointed out that linguistic and geographical divisions have divided American Lutherans into various synods, competing with each other, in services that could be achieved co-operatively. There must be more co-operation and a higher ideal of service, he said.

Other speakers included: Rev. M. J. Stolle, St. Paul; Prof. Thorild Peterson, of Minnesota college; Rev. Samuel M. Miller, St. Paul, and Rev. Claus Morgan, Minneapolis.

SAYS RELIGION AND SCIENCE NOT IN CONFLICT

Minneapolis, May 7.—(UP)—Religion and science are not in conflict, Dr. Royal Norton Chapman, of the biology department of the University of Minnesota, said in an address to students.

The two have separate fields and do not clash, he said, asserting the idea that they do is "kept alive only by extremists, religious fanatics and a few scientists who are out and out atheists."

"In the field of fact, no conflict is possible, while in certain fields of unknown, the man of science and the man of religion have equal rights for their opinions."

CANOE UPSET, FRANK MILLER WAS DROWNED

50 MEN SEARCHING FOR BODY
IN CRANE LAKE,
HIBBING

OTHER OCCUPANT OF CANOE WAS RESCUED BY OTHER MEMBERS

Hibbing, Minn., May 7.—(UP)—Fifty men were engaged today in a search for the body of Frank Miller, 35, branch manager for the Crane Company, who drowned in Crane lake on the Canadian border Thursday when a canoe capsized.

William Schiermer, Hibbing business man, the other occupant of the canoe, was rescued by three members of the same party who were in another canoe.

Crane Lake is 80 miles north of Hibbing.

The canoe carrying Miller and Schiermer capsized in the swift current of the rapids off Sandy Point. The second canoe was down stream and its occupants immediately came to the rescue of the distressed men.

Stafford King, of St. Paul, prominent member of the Minnesota American Legion, was one of the rescuers of Schiermer. In his canoe also were Rufus Milno, Hibbing, and Chauncey Miller, also of Hibbing, and a brother of the drowned man, Milno, Schiermer and Chauncey Miller brought news of the tragedy to Hibbing today.

Grappling hooks have been sent to the lake from Duluth, Chisholm and Hibbing. King is leading the search for the body with the help of the half hundred volunteers.

High winds and dry weather make the situation threatening.

State Game and Fish Commissioner J. P. Gould of St. Paul, was in Pillager last Saturday to make an examination of the fishway arrangements at the dam and to see for himself the destruction of fish caused by the wheels in the power house because they were not prevented from coming up the sluiceway to the wheels. Mr. Gould and Game Warden Cardle and Peterson went down the river in a boat and saw the result of this slaughter of game fish, and the commissioner was surprised and wondered why the matter had not been looked after before. He expressed his sentiments on the matter quite plainly to his subordinates. He left orders that wire netting be placed below the power house in such a way that the fish cannot get to the wheels, and also, that the fishway be put in condition, so that the fish going up or down can make use of it.—Pillager Herald.

Rep. Berger Has Visions of Many Industries Nationalized

Washington, May 7.—(UP)—Nationalization of railroad, telegraph and express properties engaged in interstate commerce was proposed in a bill by Representative Berger, socialist, Wisconsin, for introduction in the house today.

Private ownership of public utilities must eventually lead to struggles such as that now occurring in England, which has all the characteristics of a civil war, Berger said, in making public the measure. Under this bill a federal department of transportation and telegraphs would administer the operations.

The measure provides for payment to the present owners on a basis of actual valuation and for the establishment of "advanced" labor conditions in these industries.

Berger predicted a repetition of strikes such as the hard coal strike in Pennsylvania, "more numerous and more serious than they have been in the past, unless all natural resources and public utilities are returned to the people where they belong."

Government ownership is not a failure, he said, adding that government war time operation of railroads was merely control, under which private owners remained in charge of operation. The government took charge after private operation in the emergency had failed and the rolling stock was much run down, he said.

"The government not only spent millions of dollars to put the railroads into excellent condition, but it guaranteed the owners a profit equal to that in the most profitable years of American railroading."

"Government control during the war was not quite the failure the owners and the press have been proclaiming ever since."

"If those who remained in charge had not sabotaged the government while it was busy planning for the war, it would have been a success. "The abolition of the private ownership of railroads and of natural resources will do away with the most prolific sources of corruption and graft known to American political life. Every form of federal aid and state aid was extended to them. They were given preferential rates, huge land grants, guarantees of profits."

"In spite of all these subsidies, the history of railroads in the United States discloses one failure after another. Small stockholders, the public at large, the farmers and to no small extent the less organized of the railroad employees have been the victims of the railroad magnates."

PYTHIAN SISTERS IN CONVENTION

Successful Gathering, District Meet, Held at Staples

100 GUESTS REGISTERED

Convention Conducted by Mrs. Herbert S. Paine of Brainerd

One of the most successful gatherings in the history of central Minnesota Pythianism was held at the district convention of Pythian Sisters at Staples, Wednesday, May 5th. Around 100 registered from Aitkin, Wadena, Brainerd and Park Rapids, besides a goodly number of the local Staples members who did not register.

The convention was conducted by Mrs. Herbert S. Paine of Brainerd, who is the deputy grand chief, and she was most ably assisted in all the arrangements by Mrs. Jessie Voorhis of Staples who is the present grand manager of this state. The meeting was called to order at 3 p. m. and Mrs. Voorhis gave a most cordial address of welcome in her usual efficient manner, which was responded to by Mrs. Merickle, M. E. C. of the Wadena Temple exceptionally well.

Following this the regular business of the convention was attended to, a question box conducted, which was followed by some well chosen remarks on the new Pythian home at Monticello, Minnesota, of which all Pythians are well proud.

At 4:30 the opening of temple in ritualistic form was exemplified by Damon Temple of Staples, and the balloting by Aitkin temple, after which meeting was adjourned until evening. At 6 o'clock the ladies of the M. E. church served an excellent supper to all members.

The meeting was again called to order at 8 p. m. at which time Goldenrod temple of Wadena exemplified the initiation of both knights and ladies by giving the degrees to four ladies and one knight from Brainerd and one lady from Staples. This was followed by the closing ceremonies put on by Crescent temple of Park Rapids. In conclusion the deputy grand chief congratulated the temples on the splendid way in which the work was put on, and thanked everybody for the hearty co-operation she had received from all in making this first district meeting such a splendid success, and everybody voted that these meetings be continued.

Before adjournment Mrs. Merickle of Wadena presented the deputy Mrs. Paine, with a beautiful console set in appreciation of her work. At the close of the meeting Damon temple of Staples entertained the visitors with a wonderful program, dance and lunch, and afterwards everybody left for their homes with high praise for Staples as royal entertainers.

BRITAIN ENTERS FOURTH DAY OF GENERAL STRIKE

in which strikers demonstrated against strikebreakers' activities. The disturbances occurred outside the city hall where volunteers were enrolling for emergency duty. Police dispersed a menacing crowd which formed near the volunteers.

NOT IN CONTACT WITH GOVERNMENT

London, May 7.—Reports that the Trades Union council was in contact with the government "are absolutely false," A. J. Cook, secretary of the miners' federation, told the United Press today as he was leaving the parliament building. "Nothing has been attempted yet," he said.

SOLDIERS, SAILORS TO KEEP DOWN DISORDERS

London, May 7.—The British government operating under the drastic emergency powers act today authorized her soldiers and sailors to act as they saw fit to prevent disorder, of which it appears, the government is increasingly apprehensive.

The following message was broadcast over the official wireless this afternoon:
"All ranks of the armed forces of the crown are hereby informed that any action they may find necessary to take in honest endeavor to aid the civil powers will receive both now and afterward, the full support of his majesty's government."

The government announced officially that no actual rioting had occurred, but that there had been minor disturbances.

Reports of killings, it was said, were false and were probably red propaganda.

The situation was said never to have been beyond the control of the police.

There was a single fatality yesterday near the Elephant and Castle public house, due to a traffic accident.

PARLIAMENTARY BUSINESS NOT CEASING TO FUNCTION

By KEITH JONES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, May 7.—The general strike hit the mother of parliament today, but parliamentary business will go on.

Speaker Whitely in the house of commons revealed the state of affairs to the house of commons.

"I regret to announce," he said, "that men in several important services have been withdrawn. I will not allow any body of persons to disable the house of commons. If necessary I will carry on with business without any printing or electric lights."

David Kirkwood, a radical laborite, inquired:
"Is there no way in which the powerful British house of commons can be big enough in this crisis to say this member is not to be interfered with in this manner?"

GENERAL STRIKE MAY EXTEND TO MEXICO

Mexico City, May 7.—The British general strike will extend to Mexico Monday unless settled in London before then.

The executive committee of the National Confederation of Electrical Workers today ordered an hour's sympathy strike Monday in protest against the "intransigent attitude of the British government towards the organized labor of that nation."

TO STOP OBSTRUCTION OF TRANSPORTATION

London, May 7.—The government moved tonight to crush strikers' obstruction to the revival of transport.

Fifty thousand special constables will be concentrated in the London area, the official evening communique announced. "Orders have been issued to all authorities," said the communique, "to repress or overcome obstructions to the free passage of transport."

The government statement warned Britain that the climax of the disorders and of the strike had not yet been reached.

"As was expected," the communique said, "the situation is becoming more tense, and the climax has not yet been reached. Orders have been sent by the leaders to the railway and transport unions to do their utmost to paralyze the supply of food."

"Intimidation by disorderly crowds and picketing has occurred in many localities," the communique said, "and may occur in many more."

"An organized attempt is being made to starve the people and to wreck the state and the legal and constitutional aspects are entering upon a new phase."

This alarming communique was the most gloomy yet issued by the government and indicated that the government had reason to believe the storm which has threatened Britain since Monday midnight is about to break.

London, May 7.—A rumor that the general strike would be called off Saturday swept through London's suburbs today. A United Press inquiry at the Trades Union council headquarters in Eccleston Square evoked an amazed, irritable denial.

BUSY SERVING CONSTITUENTS

Sort of tough to be a candidate for office and then be so busy with the duties of the office that one cannot get out to see his constituents. But such is the predicament of Congressman Harold Knutson.

Speaking of a trip he just made in the east a Brainerd man in Little Falls today said: "I stopped in Washington a few days and while there visited with our congressman a short time. I found Mr. Knutson virtually 'up to the ears' in work and he will certainly be kept busy until the end of the session and for some time afterwards. Much of this work consists of his efforts to assist individuals of his district to straighten out tangled matters and different sections of the district to get just recognition before different departments. He and his colleagues from Minnesota have and are spending every available minute in their efforts to get proper legislation for the northwest farmer. Although handicapped in his campaign in not being able to visit his district the congressman is sticking to his post and takes great pleasure in being of assistance to those whom he represents."—Little Falls Daily Transcript.

WHAT MAKES IT SO HARD TO WRITE LETTERS?

THE art of letter writing is going into the discard, following the extension of the telephone system, the radio, the newspaper and the automobile. In the old days of "thank you, for the buggy ride," it was not considered unusual for a swain to write his beloved one yards of letter breathing his tender passion.

Nowadays a girl would say, "applesauce," to any long-winded letter. She calls for action, not promises. Instead of the promise of a lifetime of devotion she wants her automobile ride, her candy, her dance, etc., now. Life seems all too short for the cultivation of the epistolary art.

The average farmer never cared much for letter writing. He'd rather do a week's steady work around the farm than take his pen in hand and indite a message of some kind. He'd rather let Ma or the children write.

And in town it's the same way. Few of us have time to write and when we do, it's a kind of a hash or salad mess that we compile. Future historians delving around will find little of moment in our letters.

GREETING OUR CANADIAN FRIENDS

ON Sunday, May 16, the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce will be host to a large visiting delegation of Canadians headed by Mayor Webb of Winnipeg. The mayor is not alone executive of one of the most modern and enterprising cities across the border, but is also head of the Winnipeg tourist bureau and advertising campaign.

It is the first time the Winnipeg people and their friends have visited Brainerd in an official capacity. Previously they have been entertained at Detroit and Little Falls and this section of the 10,000 Lakes country has had no opportunity to entertain them or to show our wares of lake and field and roads and everything else that contributes to make the lake region here so inviting.

The Canadians are appreciative men. Their delegation brings the men of the business and professional world, men of the highest standings in their communities. Cementing of our international relations will do much to bring the Canadian current of recreation lovers down to Crow Wing county.

CHRISTIANSON SINCERE IN ECONOMY PROGRAM

GOVERNOR CHRISTIANSON might have built up a bureau or two and a commission for good measure to take care of collecting the gasoline tax, but he did nothing of the kind. Since the law became operative, a year ago the first of this month, the state has collected something approaching four and one-half million dollars, and, under the governor's economy plan, has done it at the expense of only two hundred and seventy dollars a month, that being the additional expense for clerk hire in the office of the state oil inspector.

Governor Christianson might have strengthened his political fences with this splendid opening, but he promises to exert himself for rigid economy in state government and he is carrying out the plan in every department. There may be some reason for putting another man in his place, but it surely doesn't show on the surface.—Hibbing Daily News.

A NEWSPAPER may boom the town through its editorial and news columns, but a critical investor takes his cue from the advertising columns for substantial evidence as to the thrift and prosperity of the place. To him it's the barometer that measures the prosperity of a town. The ads reflect a prosperous condition and tell him that the place is up with the times in business, concludes the McGregor Pilot Review.

SOME absent minded farmer in Hubbard county tied his team to an automobile, and when the owner of the latter started up, horses, farmer wagon and all joined in the forward movement and were eventually distributed about the roadside. It's all right to hitch your wagon to a star, as the high school graduates say, but don't use an itinerant automobile as a hitching post.

THE idea of sanitation is pervading all lines of business and the farm isn't exempt either. Farm authorities counsel the diligent use of the scrub brush, a little lye, some soap and hot water and a few precautionary measures of sanitation on young pigs from the time shortly before they are farrowed until they are at least four months old.

ONE-HALF of our real estate taxes are due this month of May and the city assessor was also around, leaving blanks to be filled out. Just when the car season gets under way, we face these two other tasks.

THE Musical Courier made an awful slip in type the other day when it said, reporting some musical occurrence, that "the opening piece was rendered by a mule quartet."

IN spite of vagaries of temperature cottage and resort improvements are being rushed in order to take care of the large tourist business expected this season.

High Tide at Panama

While it is contrary to the usual idea, there is really no difference in the main level of the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans, yet the difference in the tides at Panama is about 15 feet. This is due to the shape of the Bay of Panama. As the tide sweeps from the Pacific into this bay it meets a funnel-shaped shore line, which gradually contracts as the tide travels landward. The result is that the tide rises higher and higher until it reaches a maximum of 10 feet above the average sea level. When it flows out of the bay it reaches a point ten feet below the average sea level, thus giving a tidal fluctuation of 20 feet. This same rise of an excessive tide may also be observed at the Bay of Fundy. On the Atlantic at the Zone the tidal fluctuation is only two feet.—Adventure Magazine.

Among Earliest Writings

Runes are the earliest written characters used by the Teutonic races of Europe. They are formed principally of straight lines, and are found in inscriptions on weapons, ornaments, implements and memorial stones in various parts of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, and to some extent in England. The origin of the runes, as well as the date of their invention, is unknown, but it is believed they were derived from the Latin alphabet and that they were used as early as the Third century. The Norsemen believed Odin, chief of the gods, first scratched them on his spear. These runes were identified with heathen worship. The runes were retained in Scandinavia far longer than in any other region.—Kansas City Star.

all Gasolines in One.

The New and Better Texaco

In various parts of the country "special" or premium gasolines are sold—"high test" for instance, to give easy starting—"benzol blends" to reduce knocking—"commercial gas" to produce more power. Note that each of these fuels is a special preparation for a special purpose.

Not until the advent of the NEW and BETTER TEXACO GASOLINE made possible by the Holmes-Manley Process, has there been a gasoline with all these desirable qualities in one.

The NEW AND BETTER TEXACO GASOLINE has all the good qualities of any gasoline, or motor fuel, regardless of price.

A BETTER "HIGH TEST" gasoline at Low Test price.

This NEW and BETTER TEXACO GASOLINE used with TEXACO GOLDEN MOTOR OIL will give you a degree of motoring satisfaction never heretofore attained.

WAR OF HILL TRIBESMEN IS ON IN MOROCCO

FRANCO-SPANISH OFFENSIVE IS LAUNCHED FROM KERT
REGION

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS NOT CON-CLUDED. HOSTILITIES
RESUMED

Rabat, French Morocco, May 7.—
War in Morocco was resumed today.
A Franco-Spanish offensive was launched from the Kert region towards Asib de Midar. The offensive represents the beginning of the allied effort to crush Emir Abd El Krim and his Rifians before the seasonal rains, which will halt all fighting next October.

A truce of nearly three weeks
ended yesterday when peace negotiations at Oudjda finally collapsed.

The offensive was preceded by heavy aviation bombardment. General Boichut is conducting the French operations. The offensive was progressing excellently, according to early reports. Fine weather during the last four days has caused the rivers to recede from flood stage.

Land Given Prince's Name

The name "Rupert's Land" formerly was applied somewhat loosely to the Canadian Northwest, and more especially to the land surrounding Hudson bay. This extensive region, the boundaries of which were not determined until the dominion was organized in 1867, was named in honor of Prince Rupert, the first governor of the Hudson's Bay company. This territory was granted to the company by Charles II of England and was only surrendered by the company in 1869, when the title was transferred to Great Britain. In 1870 title was formally transferred to the new Dominion of Canada. As a part of Canada the Northwest was originally called "Rupert's Land" and the Northwest territory.

Food Preservation

The Canning Trade says that the first canning in the state of Maryland was apparently done by Thomas Kennett some time between 1820 and 1830.
There is definite evidence that he canned oysters in Baltimore city in 1841, which is possibly the earliest definite date. Previous to this William Underwood is supposed to have preserved foods in glass jars at Boston about 1820. These two men are credited with having brought the science of canning to America from France and England, and it does not seem possible to advise definitely the exact dates on which they first produced canned food. Probably canned oysters were the first things of the strictly canned food line, because preserving in bottles, jars and otherwise is not canning.—Washington Star.

Witch Doctors Honored

In East Africa the witch doctor is an honored personage. He does a thriving and lucrative business in charms, astrological readings and written incantations. The interesting point is that it is admitted that from such witch doctors as thrive there civilization in the past derived priceless information with regard to certain curative drugs and animal and vegetable poisons. Results of the ministrings of these witch doctors demonstrated poisons particularly.

Gold From Jewelry Dust

As a piece of jewelry is polished on a rapidly rotating buffer it throws off "dust" that becomes imbedded in the covering of the buffing wheels.
These covers are washed from time to time and the gold dust salvaged by the use of acid. The dust surrounding the machines also is chemically treated. This reclaiming process by the various establishments over the country saves many thousands of dollars. One firm alone in a midwestern city is said to save more than $6,000 annually in this way.

This Tingle
Tones Up Skin

After you first use Jap Rose, a temporary tingle—delightful and stimulating—follows. It's a sign that pores which coarse soaps could never reach are at last really clean —that the blood is circulating normally again, bringing fresh, vivid color to the face. Because of this gentle thorough cleansing Jap Rose is advised by New York beauty specialists, who know the value of keeping skin stimulated.

USE OF RHUBARB IMPORTANT FOR BALANCED DIET

From a botanical standpoint, rhubarb is not a fruit, although its great and general usage might tend to give it place among the fruits.
Due to its acid content, rhubarb has a delicious, piquant flavor, which is important for the reason that it stimulates the flow of digestive juices.

The ash content of rhubarb is high and it is also rich in the food elements known as Vitamines B and C, which have the effect of stimulating the appetite and eliminating survive.

Home economists strongly recommend the use of rhubarb in the preparation of spring menus. The following recipes have been evolved to supplement the housewife's favorite rhubarb formulae:

I live in that broad-brimmed house,"
she answered.

WESTERN AND EASTERN NINES IN HOT FIGHT

STRONGEST CLUBS TO EMERGE AND GIVE LINE ON FINISH

INTERSECTIONAL CLASHES SO FAR HAVE BEEN INDECISIVE

By PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, May 7.—With western and eastern baseball teams fighting each other today and for the next few weeks in both major leagues, the strongest clubs are soon likely to emerge and give some accurate indication as to what the late season will bring forth.

Thus far the intersectional clashes have been indecisive. Only seven games have been played and of these four went to the east. In both leagues the clubs are more bunched than is usual after the first week in May.

Seven and a half games separated the leading Yankees and their trailing American League competitor and the margin between Brooklyn and Boston in the National League is even less, six games.

The four game losing streak in which the Yankees have found themselves has complicated the situation in the junior circuit. Just when it appeared that the Huguenots were away to a dangerous lead the Athletics and Senators laid them low and now they are less than half a game ahead of the White Sox.

Last year, on May 7, it will be recalled, the Giants were away to a noble lead in the National League and the Athletics and Senators were tied in the American, except that Pittsburgh had not yet begun playing in its best form, a rough idea of the most dangerous clubs could be gained from perusal of the standings. This year, on the other hand, it is doubtful if the present leaders will be able to stand up.

The Yankees will probably remain at or near the top, but the second place White Sox, the first place Robins and the second place Reds all have been playing a little over their heads. While there have been quite a number of rookies to dash across the spring horizon, few have made any imprint on the batting horizon. The ten leading hitters in the major leagues are all veterans and the usual rookie batting spree apparently have been stopped. Joe Dugan, who is leading the American League, and Billy Southworth, at the top of the National circuit, may have no business there, but they are both veterans of many years.

However, one is reassured to find among the foremost ten the names of Cobb, Ruth and Hornsby.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Rookie Whitse, Red Sox pitcher, who left the Indians down with five hits in a 1 to 0 shutout.

Babe Ruth suffered a minor injury to his left knee when he collided with Tony Lazzeri in short right. The Yankees lost their fourth straight, Washington winning, 5 to 3.

The Cardinals got but three hits but those were enough to defeat the Robins, 3 to 1. Dazzy Vance has yet to win a game.

By bunting four hits with an error in the sixth inning the Braves beat the Pirates 3 to 1 and evened the series.

The Athletics staged a ninth inning rally which netted them three runs and a 5 to 4 victory over the Browns. Hershel Bennett, St. Louis outfielder, was injured in chasing a fly ball and may be out of the game for a week.

The Giants nosed out the Cubs 2 to 1 in the first game of their western trip.

Eighteen hits enabled the Reds to score in all but one inning and gave them a 14 to 4 rout with the Phillies.

Ernie Koob, pitching ace of the Colonels, won 2 to 1 over the Kaws in a pitching duel with Brown. Brown was hit six times while Koob allowed eight.

Staging a ninth inning rally that netted four runs, the Hens won from the Millers 7 to 6. Twenty-one players, including five pitchers, six pinch hitters and a pinch base runner were used by Toledo.

Coming from behind the Saints won, 7 to 5, from the Senators.

Hill held the Brewers to six hits and the Indians won, 7 to 2.

Urbana, Ill.—University of Illinois, through a test vote conducted by the Daily Illini, student paper of the university, voted to allow Sunday golf and tennis, 1,163 to 23. As the total number voting is only about 12 per cent of the student body, it is not thought anything will come of the vote.

HOFF'S PLEA ON DEAF EARS

POLE VAULT STAR TELLS FRISCO PEOPLE HE NEEDS REST

New York, May 7.—(UP)—The plea of Charley Hoff that he is out of condition and desires rest before entering further competition, has fallen upon unsympathetic ears.

The foreign relations committee of the Amateur Athletic union telegraphed Hoff last night that unless he competed at San Francisco tomorrow his permit for further athletic appearances in the United States would be cancelled. His excuse was not considered sufficient.

According to the telegram the "Pacific coast association acted in good faith and your failure to compete would be injurious to them and to the San Francisco public."

Police Working on Case But Have no Definite Clues

Burglars who entered the office of the Hayes-Lucas Lumber Co., 124 Broadway South last night got away with only 17 cents in pennies from the drawer of the cash register, after opening the safe which contained no money.

The burglars are believed to have entered the rear of the office some time during the night. The safe door was open but there was no money in it. Disheartened by the failure to get money from the safe, the burglars savagely broke open the drawer of the cash register and stole 17 cents it contained.

While the police are working on the case, they have no definite clue to follow.

N. P. FIREMAN SINGER

Howard Melaney Gains Fame as a Tenor Soloist

From off the cab of engine 2240 of the Northern Pacific railway comes unheralded from Montana to the Lyceum theatre Sunday only, matinee, and night a young tenor who has created more furore in theatrical and musical circles recently than any other male singer of the past few seasons. This man, Howard Melaney has been heard over the Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis radios and critics have eulogized his vocal work with much enthusiasm.

Howard Melaney was discovered as a possible singer when he clerked in the Lenox hotel, Duluth. Shortly after he moved to Glendive, Mont., where he hired out as a fireman on the N. P. railroad. Despite a terrific handicap, he found time to study voice and finally succeeded in gaining the attention of the concert stage. In but a few years time this young man has accomplished the feat of supporting his aged mother by the hardest kind of physical toil together with studying one of the most subtle and delicate of arts—the culture of voice.

CARLOAD BABY BEEF CONTEST

A. A. Dowell, Livestock Extension Specialist, Gives Out Conditions

CHANGES IN THE RULES

Calves to be Entered on or Before They Are 90 Days Old

The second annual carload baby beef contest for 1926-27 has just been started, it was announced by A. A. Dowell, livestock extension specialist of the University Farm, St. Paul in a letter to E. G. Roth, county agent.

The changes in the rules from last year are as follows:

1. Breeder of cattle: last year, all cattle had to be bred and fed on the farm; this year, calves may be bred on the farm; purchased in dam, or purchased and entered before 90 days old but not allowed to run with their dams until 7 months of age before delivery.

2. Date of entry: last year, calves entered before 30 days old; this year, calves to be entered on or before they are 90 days old.

3. Basis of awards: last year, awards based on weights only; this year, if possible awards will be made on a basis of quality and weight. In case sufficient funds can be raised to have the cattle graded on the farm, then final weights will be used to decide the awards as in the 1926-27 contest. First annual contest—altogether 41 carloads or 615 calves were entered in the first annual contest which will close within the next few months. Around $900 to $1,000 in prize money and trophies will be awarded the winning carloads. This contest has now reached a stage where it can be said that it has exceeded all expectations, from the standpoint of:

1. Number of entries.
2. Interest on the part of beef cattle breeders.
3. The information which will be available at the close of the contest.

LOCATES BEAVER FARM AT SYLVAN

North American Beaver Ranch Established at Pillager Creek

GEORGE C. RAMSEY OWNER

Has 40 Beaver Who Seem to Thrive in Their Surroundings

Living their own free life in their own surroundings, but receiving the benefit of attention from humans is the bright outlook for the 40 beaver located at dams of their own construction at the North American Beaver Ranch at Pillager Creek, one mile east of Pillager and approximately ten miles from Brainerd.

The ranch which is 40 acres is owned by George C. Ramsey, who is making a personal study of the beaver with the object in mind of placing the beaver on par with the fox in raising for commercial trade. Mr. Ramsey believes that beaver farming will be a successful project in the United States. The ranch at Pillager is the only of its kind in the United States.

The large male beaver, weighing 82 pounds caught by L. H. Groff at Rush Lake and purchased by the company finds his new surroundings much to his liking.

The ranch is surrounded by a six foot woven wire fence. The initial object of the farm is to promote breeding. Beavers can be purchased from the farm at $250 a pair, there being five beavers to each litter. A beaver can attain the age of 30 years.

George C. Ramsey besides being the owner of the ranch is postmaster at his home town of Sylvan. He has permission from the state to purchase live beavers from designated trappers.

That Apricot Casement

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

(Copyright.)

CONWAY tried desperately to assume a nonchalant air as he stepped for the first time in his life into one of those great shops that invariably make a full-fledged man quake.

"I'd gladly empty my pockets into any of those fair hands if only I didn't have to go in and shop," muttered Conway, "but I won't turn tail when it's for the dearest woman on earth I'm doing it." So Conway went bravely onward and, after inquiring where he could find curtain material, followed directions.

When he found that great floor entirely devoted to the most startling assortment of household fabrics he was more at sea than ever.

However, a fleeting expression caught his sensitive ears.

"I think there's nothing so heavenly as apricot casement against the windows with a soft Chinese blue velvet draped beside it."

Conway could hear no more, but that "apricot casement" and "Chinese blue" made a deep impression on his mind.

Edging into a small crevice along the counter he asked for apricot casement.

"The windows are twice the length of my walking stick and there are twenty-seven of them in the house," he told the girl who smiled amusedly at his evident nervousness, "and I want the same amount of Chinese blue velvet."

"Shall we send out a man to measure and put up the curtains for you?" inquired the girl.

Conway nodded vehemently. He hadn't supposed anything could be so easy. After that he selected Chinese blue rugs, flame-colored cushions and many other lovely things for the dearest mother in the world and went back to business a very much happier man. He hoped, when his mother came back from her trip of recuperation and saw the lovely new house he had bought and was furnishing for her as a surprise, that she would like his taste.

The first time he went out to see the little semi-detached house he was delighted at the effect of the apricot casement in the windows.

Conway couldn't help glancing at the other half of his semi-detached house which was, of course, the counterpart of his own and saw in the bay window a most lovely face.

The eyes were, however, anything but friendly. In fact they were decidedly hostile.

"Nice way to start out with neighbors," thought Conway, and in a second realized that his windows were dressed exactly the same as hers, even to the Chinese velvet.

"Must be a bit miffed because I have the same amount of apricots," he reckoned, but felt a trifle sorry that one so fair should be incensed at him. However, he knew that his mother would straighten out any rough edges when she arrived, so Conway went about putting in a blue and purple garden in the front which in time would be most beautiful with lupin, violas and delphinium. He did not forget, however, that some one whose looks he rather liked was peering in the window next door watching him.

And watching him she certainly was. Leah had been preparing to be very peevish at her new neighbors simply because they had chosen the exact casement cloth she had for their windows, but now she felt different. Certainly she had no sole ownership of that color.

"I like him. I'll bet he goes walking with his pipe and a dog—a real dog—not a bunch of fluff. Wonder if his wife is as nice as he is. Not likely. They never are." Leah sighed for no reason in particular and decided that when his wife came down, and she probably would when their furniture was put in, she would offer them a cup of coffee.

Conway was pleased with his day's work and went away with the feeling that his mother would be quite overjoyed when she arrived.

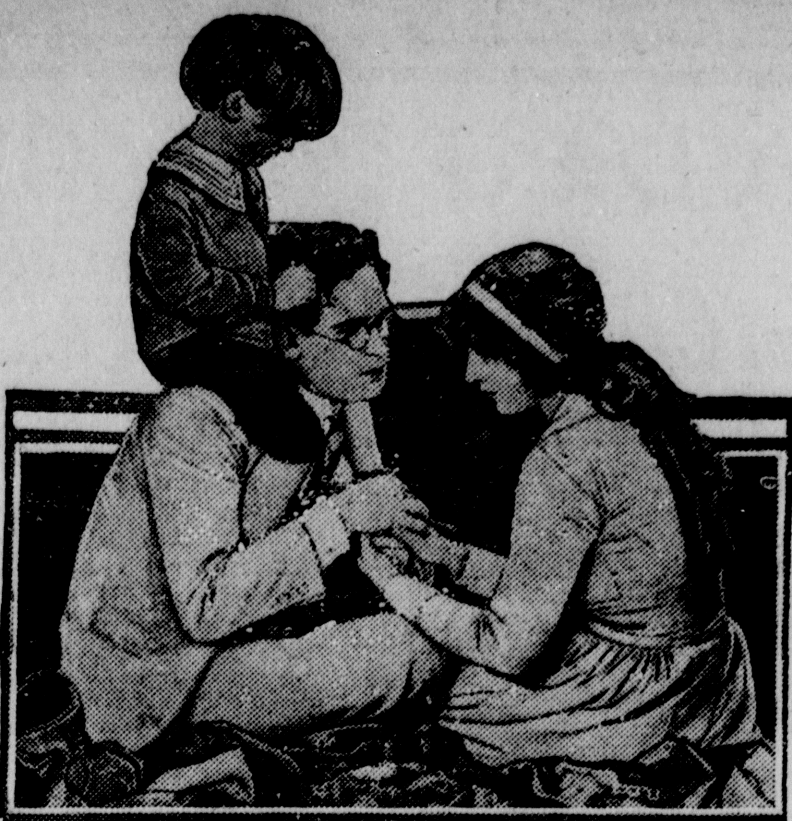

Nor was he mistaken. When his little mother stepped out of the village taxi and her big son put his arm around her and pulled her joyfully up the flagged path she looked up at him with such a love in her eyes that it quite made Leah, watching through the apricot casement, jealous. There was no slightest doubt that Conway's mother adored the son who had given her so great a surprise. Leah realized that she could follow suit if she were given a chance.

When Conway and his mother had had time to see everything in the new house, Leah went out of her front door with a most dainty tray and carried it to the next door. Conway opened it and a most charming smile leapt into his eyes.

"You couldn't have done a sweeter thing, Miss Neighbor. My mother was just wishing she had a cup of coffee and some thin bread and butter—moving day is always tiring. Come in, please, and meet her, won't you?" Conway had taken the tray and led Leah to his mother. "Mother, a good angel has appeared."

Afterward Conway laughingly told how he had selected his window dressings, and Leah realized that it was she he had overheard that day recommending apricot and Chinese blue.

"And we'll always have apricot casement and Chinese blue velvet wherever we live, shall we, Leah dear?" said Conway the day Leah promised to marry him.

HAROLD LLOYD AND JOBYNA RALSTON IN "FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE" PRODUCED BY THE HAROLD LLOYD CORPORATION A PARAMOUNT RELEASE

There are at least half a dozen reasons why everyone within a twenty-five mile radius of the Park theatre should visit it during the run of Harold Lloyd's latest laugh tonic, "For Heaven's Sake!" showing tonight also Saturday and Sunday. The most important reason, of course, is the bespectacled comedian himself.

As a scion of wealth, who goes down into the slums to assist a none too successful missionary, Harold has a role radically different from any he has previously portrayed, and one that affords him ample opportunities to display his acting genius.

"Let's Get Married"—Then the Fun Began!

Ask nine out of any ten men—and they'll tell you. Corner four out of five women—and they'll inform you. They will say that there is one phrase which has created, is creating, and will continue to create, more trouble than any other three words in the world. And they are—"Let's Get Married."

It is interesting to think back—way, way back—to the Garden of Eden, the land that made fig leaves popular. One of them—it might have been Adam; or on the other hand, it might have been Eve, said to his or her partner, "Let's Get Married." What happened? Well, it hasn't stopped happening yet! Now showing at the Lyceum theatre.

Vital Food Elements Made in Laboratory

The five food factors are salts, fats, carbohydrates, proteins and vitamins. Theoretically speaking, the first three of these can already be made in a laboratory. The fourth seems possible and chemists are optimistic about the fifth, says Floyd W. Parsons, in the Saturday Evening Post. The important question does not so much concern our ability to make these vital food elements, but rather can we manufacture the essential constituents of our daily diet as cheaply as plants can make them.

The French scientist, Berthelot, has produced foodstuffs artificially in a laboratory by subjecting gases to the action of ultra-violet rays. He proceeds on the idea that it is the light of the sun rather than its heat that produces growth in plants. In the growth of animals, the foodstuffs consumed are reduced to carbonic acid and water vapor, but in the case of plants the action is just the reverse. The plant takes the two gases exhaled by animals and combines them again to form the sugars and other hydrocarbons that animals feed upon. Berthelot's work tends to discredit the notion that the synthetic functioning of plants is a vital action, the secret of which is looked upon in that profound puzzle concerning the creation of life itself.

First Use of Skates Credited to Norseman

The first person to trust himself upon ice skates is believed to have been an ancient Norseman. The earlier skates were of bone, tied upon the feet with multitudinous straps and bandages. But working in iron had hardly more than become an established art in northern Europe before metal skates appeared. Yet with those who made their own skates, bone was still in use as late as the Twelfth century, and possibly later.

The English probably derived their knowledge of the sport of skating from the Dutch, the word skates being from the Dutch "schaats." In the same way Britain obtained her first knowledge of golf and adopted the sport of yachting.

The most interesting part of the history of skating has to do, of course, with that bold Norseman who tied bones to his feet and proceeded to skirt the margin of eternity, says the Toledo Blade. How did the idea occur to him? There was nothing in nature to suggest it to him. Why did he persist in skating until he got the trick of it? There was nothing to make him think he could learn to keep his feet from flying from under him. What did his uncles and aunts and jeering brothers and cousins say of him?

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

The story, especially devised for Lloyd by John Grey, Ted Wilde and Clyde Bruckman, combines rip-roaring action, wholesome humor, a choice assortment of thrills and a pleasing little romance.

What could be more provocative of fun and excitement than Harold starting in to reform a bunch of gangsters and toughs? And when you add to that the hilarious complications that pile up as a result of Harold's mysterious disappearance on his wedding day, you begin to realize the rib-tickling possibilities of the plot.

STOCK MARKET IN DRIFTING MOOD

New York, May 7.—(UP)—The stock market drifted in a meaningless fashion through the greater part of the session with trading again small, less than 500,000 shares being turned over in the first four hours.

There was no disposition one way or another to start a movement in stocks until late in the final hour. Then a selling wave, substantial compared with early trading, was directed mainly at the motors which gave ground.

This spread to collateral business, notably rubber, with United States Rubber getting to a new low for the year, under 68. Most of the other leaders were not active.

The market closed lower.

AGAIN
THE TIME HAS COME!
"Fly-Kil" season starts this week. Hundreds of men in the North Central states are going into action selling "Improved Dairyman's Fly-Kil" and our new product, "Household Fly-Kil."

Any man who sold "Dairyman's Fly-Kil" last season can tell you that it is the quickest money maker he has ever seen. All those men are with us again this year. Some of them have already been working for two weeks and are earning from $20.00 to $40.00 per day! "Fly-Kil" is the most widely used and favorable known "Dairyman's Fly-Kil." This year it has been improved and is more effective than ever. No increase in price! Kills every fly it hits and keeps other flies away. Advertised in all dairy and farm papers. Sold on a money back guarantee by an old responsible company.

"Household Fly-Kil," a new product, is already selling like "hot cakes" to homes, banks, barber shops, stores, restaurants, and hotels. The price is approximately one-half that which has been charged in the past for household insecticides. Representatives are cashing in right now!

In certain counties we have openings for direct-to-consumer salesmen. We want conservative responsible men. If you are a square shooter and live wire and willing to work early and late for the next four months—you positively can make big money selling "Fly-Kil." Selling experience, desirable, but not necessary. "Fly-Kil" literally sells itself. Write immediately for descriptive booklet and circulars showing letter from agricultural colleges and dozens of the most prominent dairymen in the Northwest. Give age, territory desired, and name of your banker or other references in your first letter. Act quick! Address:
